

台中教育大學英語系專題演講

Topic: Practical Skills for Teaching Reading using Online and Print resources

時間:2015 年 6 月 3 日 15:30-17:30

地點：國立台中教育大學求真樓 K107 演講廳

Abstract: The teaching of reading requires attention to basic skill development during literacy acquisition.

In early childhood the focus is on meaning, phonographic and grammatical knowledge, but modern pedagogy ensures children are also given confidence through a series of finely graduated stages of difficulty in the text complexity. The classroom techniques involve shared, guided and independent reading and the management of a class operating in small sub-groups.

《講者 Mr. Rodney Martin 簡介》

- Primary school teacher & principal
- Member of the State Curriculum Advisory Board
- committees and a curriculum writer for the Education Department of South Australia
- Full-time writer and editor of children's literature and learning materials (his work involves classroom research and professional development, and many are now in 20 languages and 44 countries in both print and digital materials, and even won awards in Australia, the UK, and the USA.)
- Continuously conduct professional development as an educator and has spoken in universities, education departments and conferences worldwide, including Harvard (USA), Lund (Sweden), Reading (UK), UniSA (Australia), Witwatersrand and Stellenbosch (South Africa), Ministry of Education (Singapore and Hong Kong).

指導單位：教育部

承辦單位：國立台中教育大學英語學系 聯絡電話：04-22183463